Renovation of the Hose House

Renovations include new insulation, windows, vinyl siding, and a bright red new metal roof.

This building was built to house the village hand-pulled fire carts and later, in 1948, beefed up to hold the “new” 1917 Seagraves fire truck.

Helen Witt Collection

This fantastic collection of decorated eggs are part of the more than 6,000 eggs decorated and sold by Helen Witt between 1970 and 1995.

Bill, her husband, did all the cutting and hinge installation and Helen did the rest. Much of this work was done while living in Empire from 1971 thru 1979 owning “WITT’S END (Tiffanys today).

Enjoy the fantastic detail and beauty of each egg.

Eggs used are: pullet, chicken, turkey, double yoked turkey, ostrich and emu.

Collection on loan from their son Bill and Sharon Witt

Ted Pelky's Model School Bus Collection

Ted started drawing busses at age 5 and building them at age 10. He works off school bus brochures and photographs.

Ted was born in 1957 in Traverse City and spent much of his time in later years in Empire, visiting here each summer from 1983 through 1998. He built an estimated 130 busses while in Empire visiting his family. After the busses would get old, he would select a few each year and have his Dad burn them keeping the wheels for the next project. Each bus took about 20 hours to complete. They are made out of poster board and some plastic trim and plastic wheels.

He donated most of his remaining Empire collection (23 of 29 busses) to the Empire Museum in February of 2013. He now lives in Brunswick, Georgia and continues to make busses to this day. The new busses have a model airplane type finish that, Ted says, make them appear more realistic than his earlier models.

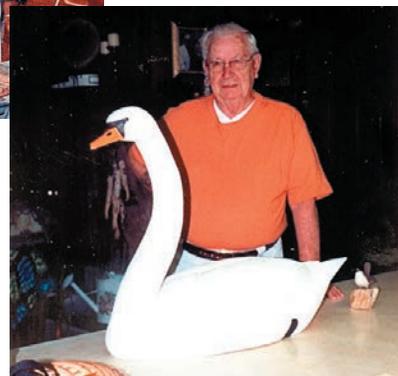

Van Houzen Additions

We have received grand additions to our Russell Van Houzen collection from the Van Houzen family.

Russell was a long time retiree of Glen Lake and a world class carver in later life. Many of his carvings and reference birds are in the museum today. Recent additions include the loan of a beautiful hand carved swan and the donation of a beautifully carved nut cracker figurine as well as carved Santa Claus's.

Russell was a long time supporter of "Museum Heritage Days" demonstrating his wonderful skill at carving each year.
